HISTORICAL SKETCH

The need for an associational high school had long been recognized and agitated by leading members in both the Sandy Run and Kings Mountain Associations. The former was the first to take active steps looking to such a school, but found it difficult to decide on a suitable location.

In the year of 1904, when the association convened at Zoar Church, the Kings Mountain Association resolved to build a school, and took active steps looking to that end. In 1905 Boiling Springs, on the border-line of the two associations, was selected as the site, and a happy arrangement made by which the two associations united in building and operating the school. The two bodies have worked together in perfect harmony at all times. The school was chartered by the state on December 2, 1905, under the name of "Boiling Springs High School, Incorporated."

After the State Department of Education provided rural high schools for all pupils, a campaign was put on to raise funds to convert the associational high school into a standard junior college. Through the efforts of the Baptist State Convention and the loyal friends of the school in the two associations, this campaign came to a successful close on April 30, 1928.

Even though the institution was changed to a junior college, the physical plant was changed very little. The Baptist State Convention withdrew its support after a few years so the college now looks to the churches of the Kings Mountain, Sandy Run, Green River and South Mountain Associations for support.

During the summer of 1939 an effective improvement and enlargement campaign was started. As a result of this campaign the buildings have been renovated, the gymnasium veneered with rock, a porch added to the boys' building, the campus cleaned up, and shrubbery planted. The Memorial Building is now being reconstructed.

The College is now realizing the most generous gifts, the most sympathetic support, and the finest spirit of cooperation from churches and individuals that it has during its history. The friends of this area are building and supporting The Greater Boiling Springs College.

PRESIDENTS OF BOILING SPRINGS COLLEGE

The College opened its first session on September 3, 1928, with J. B. Davis, M. A. and Th. M., as president, and J. D. Huggins, A. B., who had been connected with the high school since its beginning, as its first dean. Succeeding President Davis were the following:

Zeno Wall, D. D .	1930-1932
J. L. Jenkins, A. B.	1932-1935
A. C. Lovelace, A. B., M. Ed.	1935-1936
George J. Burnett, A. B., M. A.	1936-1939
John R. Cantrell, A. B.	1939-

ACADEMIC STANDING

During the years since the school became a junior college its work has been recognized both by the senior colleges of this and neighboring states and by the State Department of Education. The work is of standard quality, and thorough scholarship is emphasized in the selection of faculty, organization of courses, and requirements for graduation.

Not only have its graduates had no difficulty in entering higher institutions of learning but many of them have made brilliant records at both denominational and state colleges in this and other states. Its students have also won high honors in intercollegiate activities, including the 1937 junior college championship in debating, and other forensic honors in tournaments with senior colleges. The 1938 championship in debating was also won by Boiling Springs College, both the boys' and girls' teams winning; and the 1939 debaters furnished the men's champion of the state.

ENDOWMENT

No educational institution can exist solely on the fees paid by students, and a permanent endowment is an absolute essential for the continuance and progress of any college. An endowment fund for Boiling Springs High School was started in 1919 by a gift of $1000 from Mr. J. L. Putnam of Zoar Church, one of the most loyal and faithful friends of the school. Later gifts of $100 each were made by eight graduating classes to be applied toward the endowment of a chair of Bible. In 1923 the Gaston County Association made a gift of a little over $1100 and the late W. Harrison Eskridge of Shelby bequeathed to the school 3-8 of 10 per cent of his estate, this percent amounting to about $1,300. To date, the total amount of gifts for endowment is a little less than $7,000, and a large increase in this fund is one of the greatest needs of the college.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND LOAN FUNDS

Another very urgent need is a revolving loan fund, to be used by worthy students without interest during their college course, and to be paid back with interest several years after graduation. Efforts are being made to raise such a fund through the Alumni Association and interested friends.

The college offers to the Freshman making the highest average a $50 scholarship for the senior year.

In memory of the late Professor J. D. Huggins, Mr. L. R. Harrill, State Director of Four-H Clubs, offers a citizenship medal to the senior boy making the best record in scholarship and general interest in college activities.

Mr. John W. Suttle, moderator of the Kings Mountain Association, offers a medal to the student making the best record in Bible courses and having the best grasp of Bible teachings.

The M. G. Martin Memorial Scholarship is given to students of orthodox faith who are preparing for the Baptist ministry, preference being given to relatives of the Martin family. Value $100.

LOCATION AND BUILDINGS

Boiling Springs College is located in Cleveland County near the foothills of the Blue Ridge mountains, in the western Piedmont section of the state, which is one of the most healthful sections in the South. It is nine miles west of Shelby and three miles off U. S. highway No. 74. The incorporated village of Boiling Springs has a high reputation for its beauty, thrift and hospitality, and for the high moral and religious ideals of its citizens.

The school plant consists of four large buildings.

THE MEMORIAL BUILDING, a large brick building erected in honor of those who served in the late war, was burned on November 12, 1937. It is now being reconstructed. The auditorium, class-rooms, and laboratories are to be in this building.

THE WOMEN'S BUILDING is also of brick. In the basement are a large and well-equipped kitchen and a dining room capable of seating comfortably 250 people. On the first floor are offices, class rooms, library, parlors, society halls, and a large social room adapted to both formal receptions and informal recreation; on the second and third floors are bedrooms (each containing two closets and two or more windows), an infirmary, a pressing room, lavatories, and showers. The bedrooms have been recently refloored and the walls reconditioned and painted.

THE MEN'S DORMITORY is also a three-story brick building, recently renovated. All of these are furnished with steam heat, waterworks, and electric lights. Water is supplied from a deep well on the school grounds.

THE GYMNASIUM, the newest building on the campus, is a large rock-veneered structure containing dressing-rooms, showers, and a hardwood floor of standard dimensions, with approved lighting facilities. This gymnasium has one of the best floors in Cleveland County for a well-rounded program of games and other activities for physical education.

THE LIBRARY

THE LIBRARY is a large, commodious room equipped with tables and chairs for reading and study. The books are classified according to the Dewey decimal system of classification, with a card catalogue, and students are encouraged to help themselves. The library has received many gifts which are thoroughly appreciated, and especial mention should be made of the large number of books which have come to the library from the late Mr. Carme Elam. A trained librarian has full charge and, with the assistance of several students, keeps the library open from eight o'clock in the morning until nine o'clock at night except during meal hours.

STUDENT LIFE

HEALTH

All applicants for admission should be in good health at the time of entering. A sound body is such a valuable asset and so requisite to effective study that the college does everything in its power to insure the best possible physical development of each student and to maintain his general health. The college is noted for its dining room, which furnishes abundant meals with varied and well-balanced menus. An infirmary is maintained in the women's building, and simple remedies are administered when necessary, but local physicians are available for any serious cases. Students must pay physician's charges.

SPORTS AND ATHLETICS

The school employs competent coaches for both men's and women's sports. Both intercollegiate and intramural programs are provided. Due to the interest in athletics of the entire student body, the college teams have won a fine reputation. The men's basketball, and baseball teams have belonged to the North Carolina Junior College Conference and engaged in intercollegiate contests.

Any student who is not passing the required number of hours is removed from the team until his work is reported satisfactory by the classroom teacher. No student will be allowed to play in any intercollegiate game unless he is meeting classes at least twelve hours a week and passing at least nine hours of work.

Excellent opportunities are offered for a variety of recreations for those who do not wish to participate in the intercollegiate program. Intramural games of tennis, softball, basketball, volley ball, speed ball, ping pong, track, and horseshoe are played during the year. The Women's Athletic Association gives credit points in the intramural program, and each student who makes 1000 points wins a chenille "B" and is eligible for membership in the letter club.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

Until 1933 there were four literary societies, two for girls and two for boys. These are now merged into two—the Kalagathian-Kalliergeonian, and the Athenian-Rhamsaeur—both of which contain both men and women. Membership in these societies in optional, but strongly recommended. Each society carries on a varied program, with special emphasis on forensics.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

The college provides a rich and varied program of social and extra-curricular activities, which are as carefully planned as are the courses of instruction. Receptions, parties, and socials, formal and informal, are included in the college calendar under control of a faculty committee, and trips to places of historic or scenic interest are planned from time to time. In all of these the aim is to furnish opportunity for the student to participate in a wide range of activities and to cultivate discrimination in the choice of pleasures.

RELIGIOUS LIFE

The ultimate aim of the college, as a Christian institution, is to develop the spiritual life of the individual student and to create an atmosphere conducive to right conduct and growth in Christian character.

The Baptist Student Union works with the faculty in seeking to accomplish these ends and its council is the connecting link between the college and the local church. All students are invited to put their membership in the Boiling Springs church and to attend Sunday School and Baptist Training Union.

In addition to co-operating with the church, the Baptist Student Union conducts weekly religious programs in the college, sponsors study courses in Bible and methods of Christian work, sponsors daily morning devotionals and evening prayer meetings in the dormitories, and seeks to exercise a wholesome influence over all social contacts among students.

All of these activities are in addition to the Bible courses and chapel programs which are required as a regular part of the college schedule.

The ministerial students of the college have their own organization. These students not only take an active part in the religious life of the college, but they frequently supply the pulpit of the local church and neighboring churches.

POINT SYSTEM

In order to protect students from too heavy a load and to afford more individuals an opportunity for experience and leadership in organized groups, a point system has been inaugurated to cover all the extra-curricular activities, including membership and office-holding in athletic, literary, and religious organizations.

REGULATIONS AND GENERAL INFORMATION

DISCIPLINE

The ideal of college life is that of a well-ordered Christian home, where each individual may have as much freedom as is consistent with the well-being of the group, and students are granted many privileges here which could not be allowed in a larger school. Since growth in character comes only through the development of self-direction and self-control, rules and regluations are reduced to a minimum and are made or amended as may seem necessary for the good of the individual and the group. The responsibility for making and enforcing these rules and regulations rests jointly on faculty and students. For several years the college has had a system of partial student government, and separate councils of men and women handle minor problems of conduct.

It is assumed that students are ladies and gentlemen and that they will conduct themselves accordingly. Certain qualities are expected of each one, including:

FAITHFULNESS AND PROMPTNESS in the performance of all duties, both in academic work and in any work which the student may do to help pay his expenses.

RESPONSIBILITY AND CARE in the use of college property, and reparation for all damage done to rooms, furniture, equipment, library books, etc.

ORDERLY CONDUCT in dormitories, halls, and dining room at all times, with quiet during study hours and after the signal for lights out at night.

COURTESY AND CONSIDERATION in all relations with students and teachers, especially between young men and young women. A large degree of freedom is granted in social relations, but with the understanding that this may be revoked if abused.

CHURCH ATTENDANCE and participation in the life of the local church.

STRICT OBSERVANCE OF STUDY HOURS on week nights. Those who prove unable to do their work successfully in the library or in their own rooms may be required to spend some time in a study hall under faculty supervision.

The list of things positively forbidden is short but definite. It includes:

Any gross immoral conduct
Cheating or dishonesty of any sort
The use of alcoholic drinks
The keeping of firearms while connected with the school
Card playing or gambling in any form
Smoking by women at any time
Smoking by men in or near the women's building
Mixed dancing

ADVICE TO PARENTS

The co-operation of parents is earnestly requested in regard to all the regulations of the school, especially in regard to week-end trips home or other absences from the campus. The school year has been arranged with a view to the convenience of its agricultural patrons, and in order to accomplish the required amount of work within the given time it is necessary that students devote their whole time to it. It is desired that the college students take an active part in the morning and evening services at the local church, and that Sunday afternoons be observed as a time of rest. For all these reasons are urged not to request that the children be excused for frequent week-ends, and not to plan for their children to work campus.

Parents are invited to visit the college and to talk or write freely about their children. The college officials are always glad to know the parents' point of view and to do anything in their power to correct any wrong, real or imaginary.

A discount of five per cent is allowed when full amount for the year is paid at the opening of the College.

When two or more students come from the same family, a deduction of five per cent is made in the account of each. This deduction is not made if either or both students should withdraw before the end of the year.

Since Boiling Springs College is owned and supported by the Baptist churches of this area, special encouragement is offered to Baptist ministerial students and to children of Baptist ministers. For any ministerial student who presents a recommendation from his own church indicating approval of his preparation for the ministry, the tuition charge will be reduced $48.00 per year. Half of this reduction will be extended to sons and daughters of Baptist ministers actively engaged in preaching or pursuing an education in an institution of learning.

Not more than one deduction will be allowed on any one account. If an account merits two or more deductions, the larger one will be granted. ALL DISCOUNTS WILL BE DEDUCTED FROM THE LAST PAYMENT.

The college reserves the right to keep any amount sufficient to cover the damages. No room will be regarded as reserved until this fee is paid. It will not be refunded unless the application is cancelled prior to September 1, or unless the student's preparation is found to be insufficient for entrance.

STUDENTS ENTERING COLLEGE LATE are charged for tuition and fees for a semester, but are charged for board and room only from the time of entrance. The same provision applies in regard to students leaving the college before the end of a semester; in such cases the reduction for board and room begins only after the college office has been definitely notified of withdrawal A student who discontinues a special subject before the end of a semester is charged for the full semester.
